VALEDICTORY

We, the senior class of 1951, are at the close of four years' work and we are looking into a new phase of our life's experience. As we survey our hopes and ambitions, we cannot help but realize what a great number of responsibilities and duties lie ahead of us. The future of our community and our nation lies in our hands. It is with regret that we come to the close of our high school experiences; but we have the satisfaction of arriving at the end of these happy days with the feeling of work well done. From these experiences we will go on. Some will continue in higher educational fields while others will be getting married, going to work, and serving the nation in the armed forces. Our country is facing another crisis and we are the ones who will have to assume the responsibility of deeping it out of World War III.

We have found that right finally succeeds and that all disappointments and failures are but a part of experience. They make us take up our work with more intelligence. We know that we rest to refresh our minds and bodies that our waking hours may be more keen and bright. We are bidding farewell to Lyons High School, but we are also welcoming the trials and joys of life. Success, failure, happiness, and bitterness will cross our path. We face the problem of an overcrowded world, in which we must take our place without using our elbows too much. The social life is now complete without us; we must make our way. Up to now our lives have been planned for us, but now, that is not so. We are facing the world as an adult. Our life will not be a bed of roses, with no thorns; but we look forward to doing many things to help our country. There are many new fields open to us, if we can only find and utilize them. Our place in this world will be hard to find and we want our friends to help guide us so we can be good honest citizens. Our class motto, "Love, Learn, and Live", will help us along the road of life. If more people would follow this motto, there would be fewer wars and our country would be a more peaceful place in which to live. We will take these words out into the world with us and try to live up to them. By doing this we hope to accomplish goals that our ancestors did not.

We, the senior class of 1951, bid farewell to the faculty, the lower classmen, and the dear halls of Lyons High School. We are happy to be welcomed into a world of responsibility and reality.

Joyce Lindsay

SALUTATORY

As our schoolwork comes to an end, we look back and see all of the mistakes we have made in the twelve years we have been going to Lyons High School. But, besides the mistakes, there are very many good things that happened to us also. This is somewhat like a basketball game, because you can always look back and see the mistakes you have made after the game is over. The most appropriate thing to do then is to make the best of the opportunity you have when you are in school or are participating in a sport.

In schoolwork, just as in sports, you must have someone to teach you how to do the right thing at the right time. I want to take this opportunity to thank all of the teachers who have helped me and the rest of my class to success in passing through all of the twelve grades necessary for graduation. As we were going through the lower grades we thought the teachers were very harsh with us and we couldn't understand why they wanted us to study as hard as they expected us to. As we continued on through the grades and finally succeeded in getting into high school we began to see why we were being sent to high school. In high school a person sees more of other people and finds that he isn't quite as well educated as he might have been if he had paid more attention to his teachers and studied as hard as he was capable of doing. In the grades you might think you are studying hard but when everything is done you see where you could have been more efficient.

We may think our education is finished when we graduate from high school but in reality it is just beginning. Like any sport you have only learned the fundamentals when you are through high school. If someone wishes to play professional sports after he is out of high school he must start by going to the bottom and working his way up to the top. Then you must have experience to make yourself stand out with the people that will hire you. As you go along playing with the lower teams you become better and more acquainted with the sport you are participating in and you learn the tricks of the trade. This is true of life also. The longer a person wants to learn, the more he will learn about the reasons he succeeds or why he doesn't succeed.

As we go out from high school to take our places in life, I hope everybody keeps in mind the fact that if a person doesn't put forth much effort he will not get much out of anything. Life is just like competitive sport, the more you put in, the more you will get out.

Ivan Gillespie

CLASS POEM

ALL OUR DAYS WILL BE WELL,
IF THEY TURN OUT HALF AS SWELL
AS THOSE WE SPENT IN LYONS HIGH.
JUST TO THINK OF THEM MAKES ME SIGH!

BACK TO THE FIRST GRADE OUR MEMORIES STRAY
WHERE MISS CROCKETT TAUGHT US DAY BY DAY.
AFTER THAT THE GRADES WENT FAST
THEN DROPPED INTO THE FILES OF OUR PAST.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL DAYS WERE THE BEST;
IN OUR FILES WE HOLD THEM HIGHER THAN THE REST.
THINGS LIKE PLAYS, GAMES, AND DATES REALLY RATE;
AND OH MY, WAS THAT SENIOR YEAR GREAT!

IT'S TIME TO PUT OUR FILES AWAY,
NEATLY, SO WE CAN LOOK AGAIN SOME DAY.
NOW TO FIND THE SUCCESS WE WANT
FOR SOME--IT MAY BE A LONG HUNT.

WE MAY DRIFT FAR APART,
BUT ALWAYS IN OUR HEART,
WE SHALL CHERISH THOSE MEMORIES DEAR.
SO THANK YOU ALL FOR A HAPPY 12 YEARS.

CLASS HISTORY

T'was in the year of '47"
That we had gathered round
To take a trip out West, to see
What was or could be found.

We started from Lyons with a group of twenty-eight. There were Paul Sanford, Elwood Baugh, Duane Smith, Charles Mowery, James Reed, Ivan Gillespie, John Smith, Pat O'Leary, Kenneth Lambert, Robert Johnston, Frank Kennedy, Ronald Lahman, Ramona Miller, Coretta Shuman, Dora Jean Wagler, Edith Felkey, Elvira Hartman, Lois McCance, Reva Seigneur, Charlene Sanford, Donelda O'Neill, Jane James, Lenora Peebles, Betty Clark, Joyce Lindsay, Delite Patterson, Eleanor Reed, Mary Derby. Also Mrs. Hathaway, who was going to advise us.

The first place we headed for was Cincinnati. There we first learned about Hillbilly Music; and so we decided to go through the southern states. It took us a whole year, but we enjoyed it. Robert Johnston, Jane James, Elvira Hartman, Jim Reed, and Eleanor Reed liked it so much they decided to stay and record hillbilly tunes. We hated to lose them but we soon discovered that two others had decided to go along with us. They were Ruth Kistner and Joan Miller. We got a new advisor for the next part of our trip-Mr. Westover.

So we traveled on down through Texas and Mexico which we found quite large but very interesting. It took us quite awhile to cover all the things we wanted to see there, but we finally got going again and we arrived in Arizona in May, 1950. We spent a three month vacation there although it was pretty rough and rugged. It didn't seem to bother Elwood Baugh, Ruth Kistner and Delite Patterson, because they decided to stay and try to uphold law and order.

A few seemed to be moving out of town so they accompanied us on our trip. They were Doris Hoffman and Leonard Tedrow. Our advisor, Mr. Westover, decided to stay with us because of confidential reasons.

Next we passed through Utah where we spent some time at Salt Lake City. Then we went through Nevada and over into California where we decided to stay all winter. In fact, we stayed until Spring. When we decided to start our return trip Betty Clark, Mary Derby, and Duane Smith, told us they were going into pictures and had decided to stay.

Just as we were about to leave, Mr. Westover said he was going to stay and try his luck, so we got another advisor-Mr. Johnston, and also another passenger, Maxene Clendenin. We then were ready to return home. We will remember the trip as long as we live.

The Senior Class of 1951

Last Will And Testament

We, the Senior Class of Lyons High School, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

FIRST: I, Lois McCance, will my shyness to Ramon Lamb; also my long black hair to Carol Gillespie.

SECOND: I, Charles Mowery, will my double OO number to Paul Sallows, who is about my size, also my competitive spirit to Charles Mika.

THIRD: I, Dora Jean Wagler, will my artistic ability to anyone who has patience enough to stick by it, and my brown eyes to Janis Gunn.

FOURTH: I, Kenneth Lambert, will my ability to attend Church three nights a week to Al Peebles, and my love for my trombone to Jamie Wilson.

FIFTH: I, Joan Miller, will my blushing manner to Delbert Felkey, and also my red hair to Mary Laiman.

SIXTH: I, Ronnie Lahman, will my height to Mr. Mitchell so he can better take care of those big problem boys in his future classes. Also my dark hair to Mrs. Engebretson.

SEVENTH: I, Maxene Clendenin, will my ability to skip a grade to Victor Rice.

EIGHTH: I, John Smith, will my nickname (which is Poochie) to Wayne Holland, and my draft papers to Max Seigneur as he can run faster than I can.

NINTH: I, Joyce Lindsay, will my quiet manner to Dave Lawrence, and my tolerance (of the senior girls) to Judy Kennedy.

TENTH: I, Leonard Tedrow, will my dancing ability to Earl Woerner, and my ability to receive a letter a day from a different girl to anyone who has a good hand for writing.

ELEVENTH: I, Lenora Peebles, will my sense of humor to Barbara Lewandowski, and my smile to Mary Ellen Stevens.

TWELFTH: I, Pat O'Leary, will my "hotrod" car to someone who thinks they can control it, and my delightful dimple to Helen Gilbert.

THIRTEENTH: I, Edith Felkey, will my plumpness to Barbara Lamb, and my ability to get along with everyone to Sandra Hall.

FOURTEENTH: I, Frank Kennedy, will my way with the teachers to Edward Wilson, and my way with women to Harlen Green.

FIFTHTEENTH: I, Charlene Sanford, will my slimness to Clara Belle Clark; and my love for uniforms to Sue Waldron.

SIXTEENTH: I, Paul Sanford, will my tardy excuses to Dale Hallett. I also give my secret of how to get your dad's car once a week to Charles Peebles.

SEVENTEENTH: I, Ramona Miller, will my ability to talk to Joyce Skinner, and my ability to stay out of school so often to Dick Hinkle.

EIGHTEENTH: I, Ivan Gillespie, will my stubbornness to Gail Driskell, and my good grades to Byron Shuman.

NINETEENTH: I, Reva Seigneur, will my six periods a day in the commercial room to anyone else who thinks they can stand it, and my love for the Army to Ella Jean Burroughs.

TWENTYTH: I, Coretta Shuman, will my drool can to Joy Dunbar so that it won't get too far out of the family, and my fantastic hair do's to Mary Lou Gillespie.

TWENTY FIRST: I, Doris Hoffman, will my smile to Beverly Sheeley, and my love for food to Tommy Spitler.

TWENTY SECOND: I, Donie O'Neill, will my temper to anyone who thinks they can control it, and my delightful dimple to Helen Gilbert.

We, the Seniors, will our marked-up desks and the cold history room to the Juniors; our wonderful conduct and good grades to the Sophomores, and our ability to get along so well with all the teachers and our fellow classmates to the Freshmen.

We, do hereby wash our hands of this Will, but if anyone wishes to find any of the writers of this Will, locate us by way of the State Hospital in Toledo, Ohio.

"HOT ROD RACES OF 1955"

Here it is 1955 and warm weather is here. Everyone feels lazy and needs excitement. What did we decide would be exciting? Why the Hot Rod Races! Let's go. There's a taxicab. Why the driver is Robert Johnston. Didn't he sponsor the Seniors of '51'?

That was a nice ride. Now we are at the grounds. The ticket seller surprised us; it is Lois McCance. Next we need a program. We shall buy one from this lady. It's Ramona Miller, I believe.

The smell of popcorn makes one hungry. Paul Sanford is running the popcorn machine.

Don't I recognize the people in front of us? Yes, it's the Hank Baldwins. Mrs. Baldwin is the former Joan Miller. We seem to have arrived just in time for some pre-race entertainment. It's Pat O'Leary's dance band accompanying Sam Smith in a Ballet number. Coretta Shuman is singing, "I'm sending you a big bouquet of roses". So much home town talent! There seems to be competition. It's Doris Hoffman doing a trapeze act on the rails!

The race is about to start. The hotrods are warming up. There are the Borcks—all ten of them--shining the hotrods. The former Lenora Pebbles is Mrs. Borch.

There is Frank Kennedy with his hot-rod, "The Rudolph".

This seems to be a very important race. The ace sportswriter for the Seward Gazette is here. It's Donelda O'Neill.

Frank didn't come out so well. Some short fellow with a bald head driving a yellow taxicab won the race.

The announcer is interviewing the sponsor of this race, Mr. Leonard Tedrow, salesman of used Whizzer parts.

The track is being swept for the next race. They seem to be doing it rather peculiarly. Oh! the sweepers are practicing basketball. Charles Mowery is sweeping and dribbling and Ivan Gillespie is holding the basket.

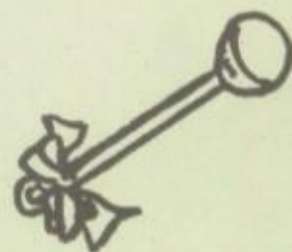

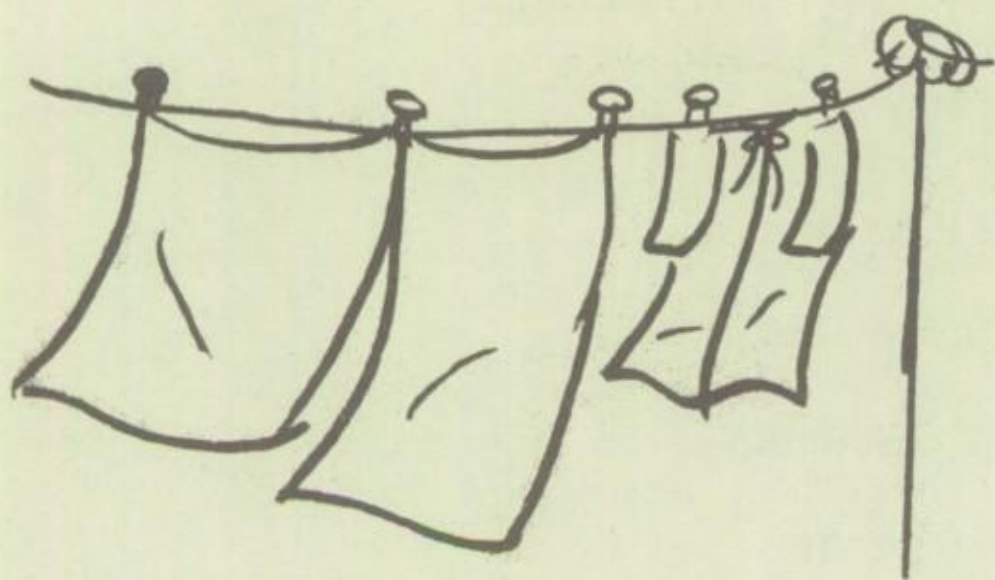

Here comes a cigarette girl, Joyce Lindsay. Joyce says that she works here to protect her interests.

The second race is starting. This is a ladies race. Let us see if we recognize any of the drivers. Yes, there is Dare Devil Dora Wagler and Charlene Sanford. Charlene is playing the clarinet while racing. Everything is going smoothly. Oh!----I'll take that back. It's a wreck. Here comes the ambulance. The driver is Ron "I'll heal it quick" Lahman and there is the nurse, Edith "I'll help him" Felkey. They are pronouncing the victim dead. The track Reverend, Brother Zeke Lambert is saying a few words. There will be a quick funeral. Here comes the organist, Maxene Clendenin with a little fast funeral music, "The Shotgun Boogie."

The funeral is over. The race resumes! Do we hear music? It's "We're in the Army Now" and who is singing it but the William Millers and their five little soldier boys. Mrs. Miller is the former Reva Seigneur.

This has been quite a day at the races. It seems that we've seen all the Seniors of '51'. What an enjoyable occasion.
